

Veterinarians see an increase in arthritis pain in cats over 10 years old, but don't wait!

The earliest signs of arthritis pain can show up in kittens and young cats.

Signs Your Cat May Be in Pain

- Changes in mobility, such as gait, jumping, and stair use
- Changes in activity level, such as playfulness or time resting
- Changes in grooming
- Changes in temperament, such as avoiding handling or interaction

Boehringer
Ingelheim

Watch.

Share.

Act.